Like a baby is nurtured, Incubation centers (established firms, colleges, and universities) provide facilities to nurture young firms (startup) during their early months or years of growth. Further, this collaborative program designed helps new startups to succeed.

In-charge of incubation center of the college is supervising the training. Dr. Madhukar J. Nikam, Coordinator-Skill Training Program and Mr. Amolsingh D. Rotele, Coordinator-Incubation Centre. Athawale College of Social Work is the only college in the entire Bhandara district which is running self-employment training and guidance center along with traditional courses.

Data Entry Course, Bed Side Assistance and Data Operator The center has been imparting training and guidance to the students for the last two years on how to become self-employed along with their traditional education. Through this training and guidance center, it is planned to impart training at various levels which will create self-employment in future.

Incubation Center: The main objective of the Self-Employment Training and Guidance Center is to promote, manage and support start-ups based on professional skills and technology. So that the center provides participation in job creation, creation of financial opportunities, meeting the needs of the society and various organizations, etc.

Similarly, the main objective of the center is to provide training to the students through research / reflection on the topic of self-employment at different levels and to guide the students accordingly. To train in this connection, various self-employment training classes will be conducted in the college and in future more students will be motivated for self-employment along with traditional education.

Incubation Center of the College: It had been started in December 2019 with the aim of to strengthen the Self-Employment Training and Guidance Center, the College with the help of various factories, Home Industries and Maharashtra Skills Center run by the Government of Maharashtra and other organizations run self-employment training and guidance centers. The college and the center are trying their best to strengthen this center of the college by signing an agreement with them and to provide maximum type of self-employment training. To train and guide the educated youth of Bhandara district according to their educational qualifications and the resources available to them and to boost their economic progress.

The college and the center will make efforts keeping this objective in mind. Local and governmental bodies should make efforts to start such centers at all junior colleges and senior colleges at village level. In today's modern age where the prevailing education system has proved to be ineffective in providing employment to all. At a time when fierce competition is raging in all sectors and the educated youth are lagging behind in such a life threatening competition, it is natural for the youth to be disappointed with the educated unemployed.

Similarly, the government has also failed to provide jobs to the well-educated unemployed in rural areas. This real situation is facing not only Maharashtra but India as well as the whole world. The concept of self-employment is gaining ground all over the world. Self-employment training according to one's educational qualifications is now a necessity for every youth.

Acknowledgements:

Social workers in hospitals and medical centers provide frontline services to patients with conditions spanning the entire health care continuum. According to a national survey of licensed social workers, hospitals are the most common primary employment setting for health care social workers. For purposes of this document, the term “hospital” refers to the variety of general and specialized acute care medical facilities. Hospital social workers practice in increasingly specialized environments, and are frequently assigned to specific medical units that are based on diagnosis, age, or gender. Examples of social work specialization within a hospital include pediatrics, oncology, nephrology, transplant, and emergency/trauma. In addition to clinical roles, social workers are also employed in hospital leadership roles, and may serve as managers or administrators for specific hospital programs such as mental health, aging or community outreach.

The main objective of this programme is to provide knowledge and direct experience to our students. We Acknowledge support of,
